

(Note: An opacity-effect makes the text more readable than this wireframe version)

Majgull Axelsson - Author, lecturer, journalist

Majgull Axelssons Official Homepage

This website is the official homepage for Majgull Axelsson, a Swedish author who has been translated into over 20 languages. Through her career she has moved from producing documentary-books about child labour and destitute, homeless children to novels such as 'April Witch' that take a searching look at Swedish society throughout the 20th and 21st century.

Majgull does not use any social media (Though the webmaster of this site maintains her presence on Goodreads). Instead, this site is the best way both to contact Majgull with inquiries and to keep abreast on any upcoming appearances.

For more information on specific books by Majgull, please check the books page, which contains review quotes, cover-text and ISBN numbers for all her fiction-books.

If you want to contact Majgull, please

Upcoming events:
(Please note, event-descriptions are usually listed in Swedish.)

20 JUNE 2020
[Placeholder box]

20 JUNE 2020
[Placeholder box]

20 JUNE 2020
[Placeholder box]

Majgull Axelsson

Majgull Axelsson is an author, lecturer and journalist from Landskrona, Sweden. Her books have been translated into over twenty languages. Amongst the awards she's received for her work is Augustpriset (1997), BMF-Plaketten (1997, 2014) and the Ivar Lo award (2015).

Books

Augustpriset (1997), BMF-Plaketten (1997, 2014) and the Ivar Lo award (2015).

iPad 10:03 AM

Start Contact Books About ...

Majgull Axelssons Official

This website is the official homepage for Majgull Axelsson, a Swedish author who has been translated into over 20 languages. Through her career she has moved from producing documentary-books about child labour and destitute, homeless children to novels such as 'April Witch' that take a searching look at Swedish society throughout the 20th and 21st century.

Majgull does not use any social media (Though the webmaster of this site maintains her presence on Goodreads). Instead, this site is the best way both to contact Majgull with inquiries and to keep abreast on any upcoming appearances.

For more information on specific books by Majgull, please check the books page, which contains review quotes, cover-text and ISBN numbers for all her fiction-books.

Upcoming events:
(Please note, event-descriptions are usually listed in Swedish.)

JUN
[Event card]
20 JUNE 2020

JUN
[Event card]
20 JUNE 2020

JUN
[Event card]
20 JUNE 2020

09:52 AM

Start

Contact

Books

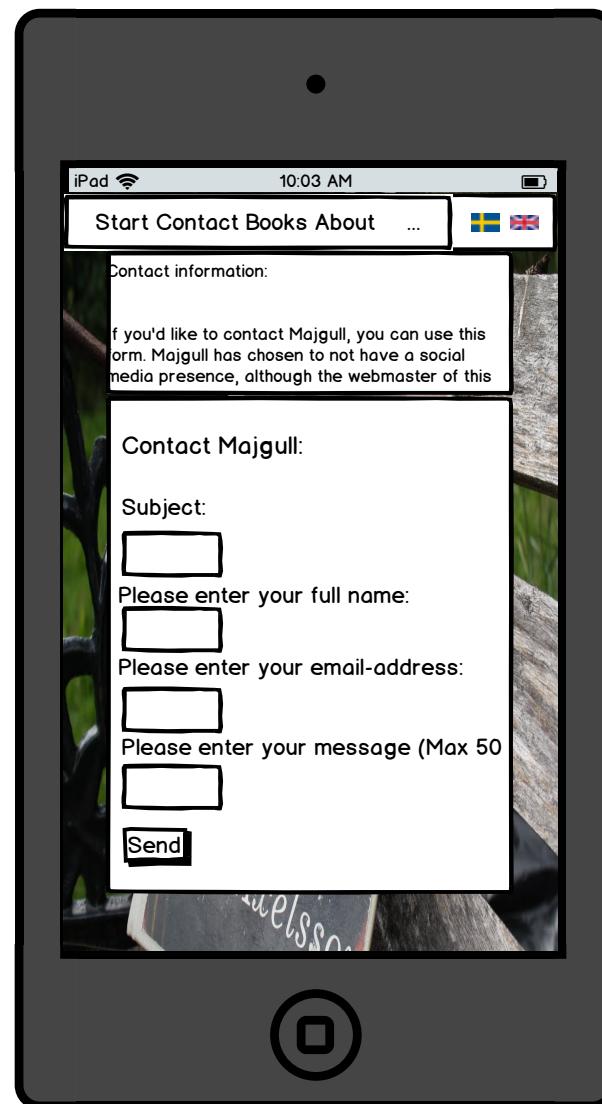

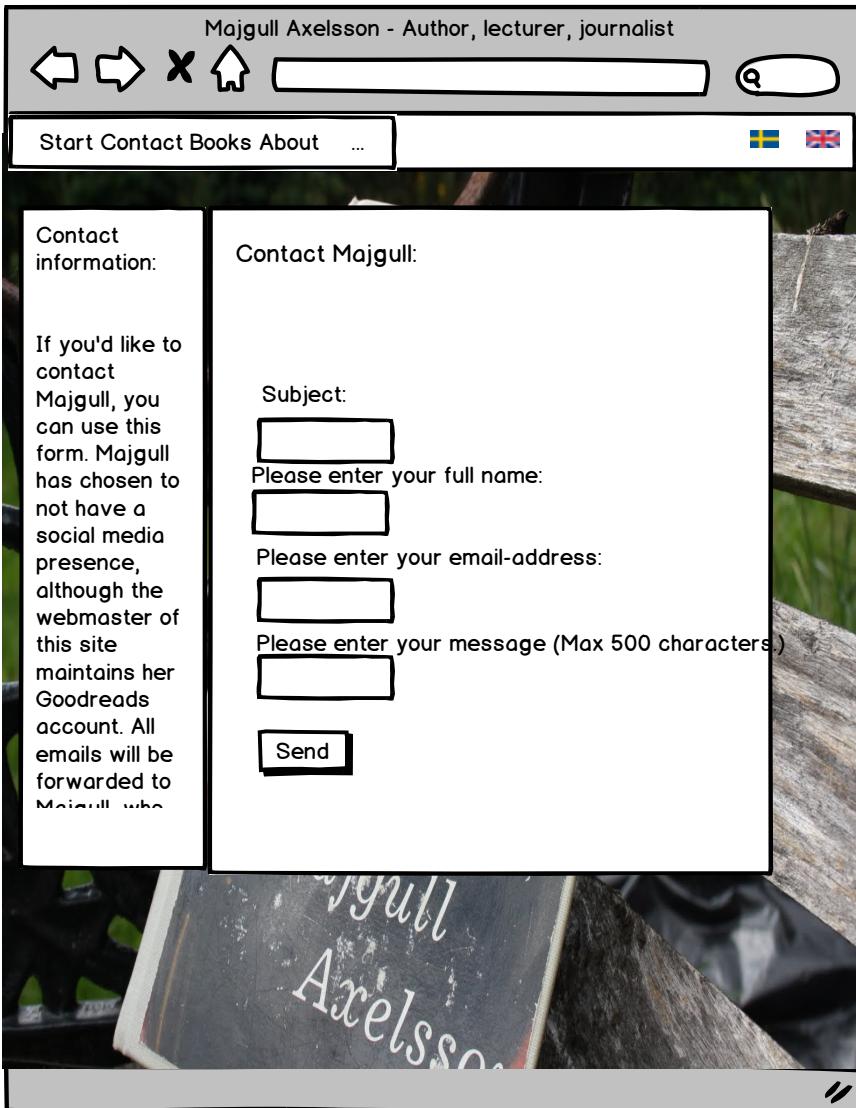

About

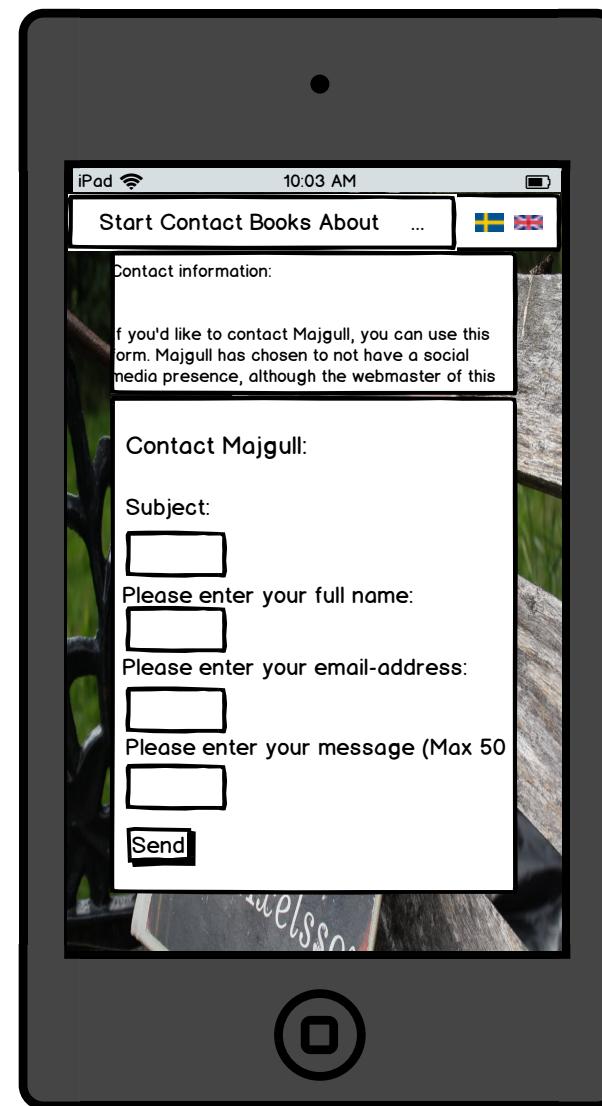

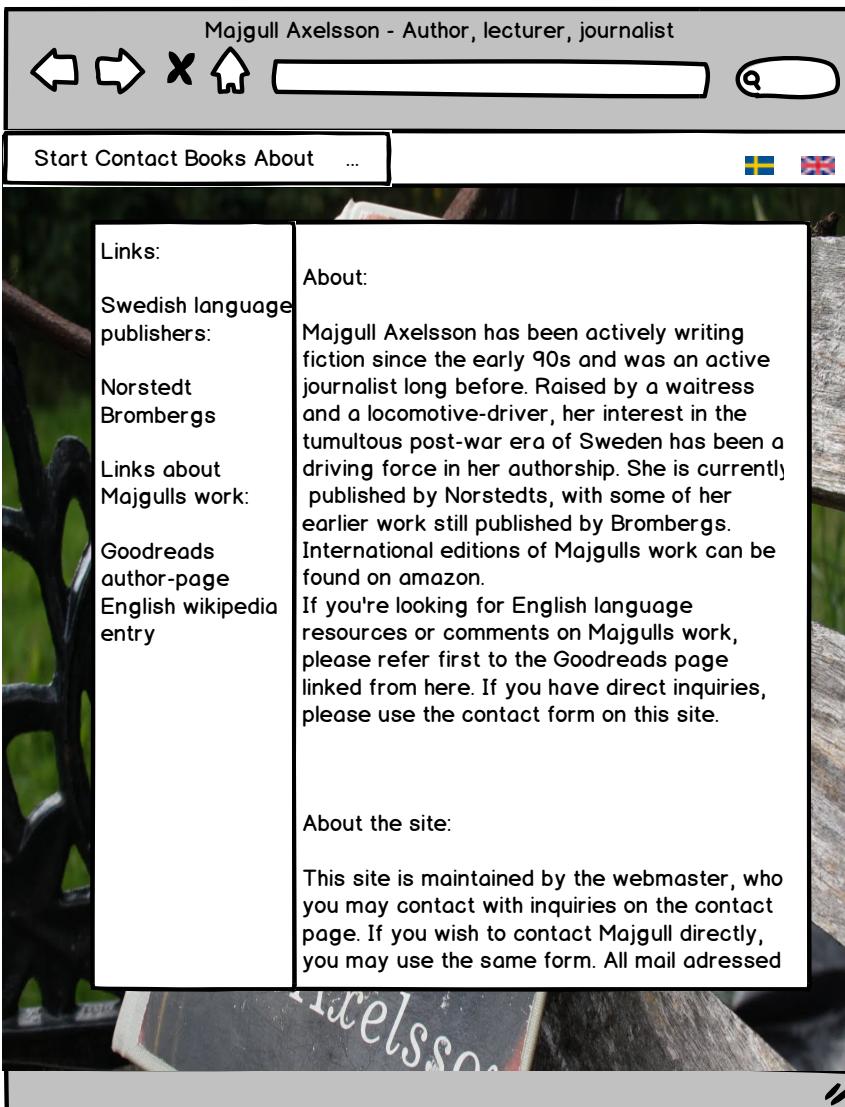

Majgull Axelsson

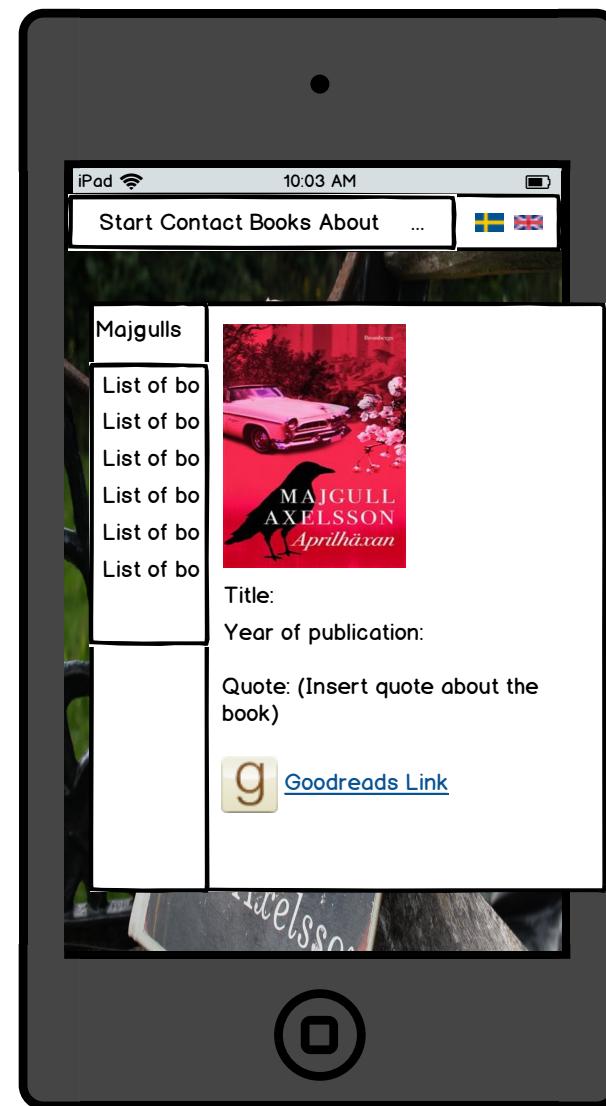

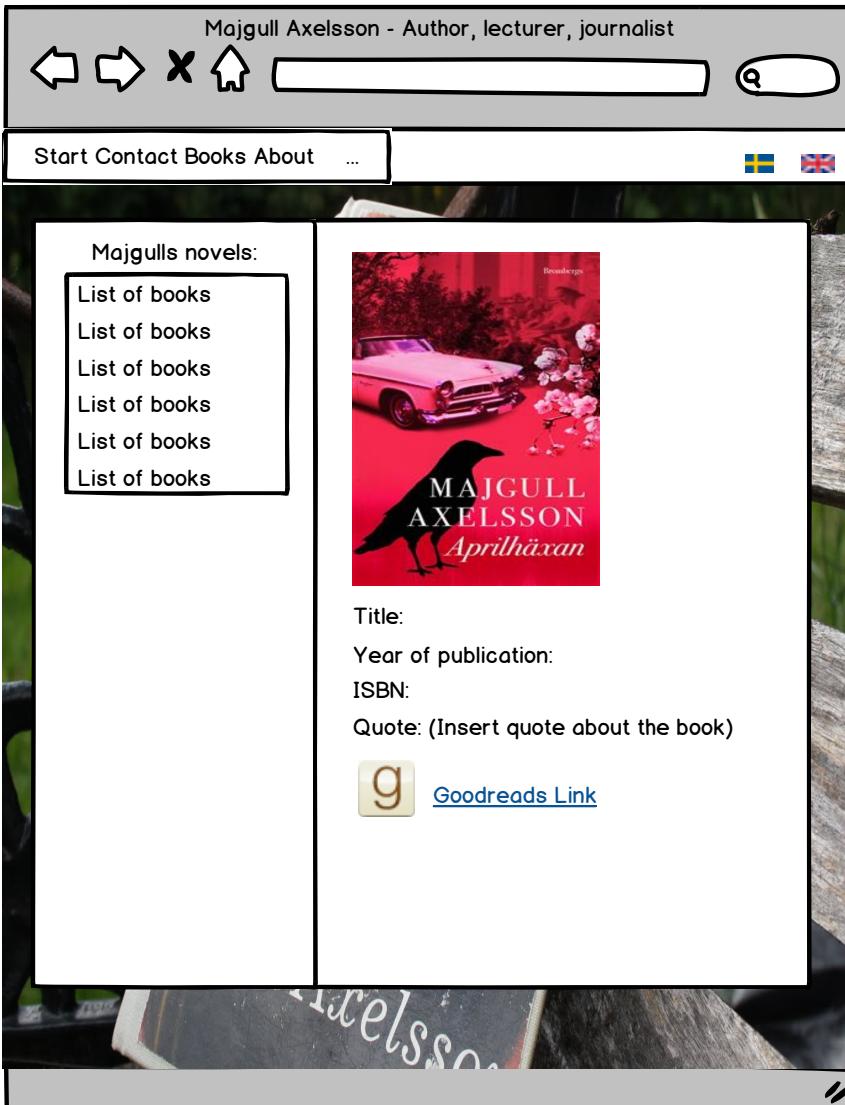

Majgull Axelsson is an author, lecturer and journalist from Landskrona, Sweden. Her books have been translated into over twenty languages. Amongst the awards she's received for her work is Augustpriset (1997), BMF-Plaketten (1997, 2014) and the Ivar Lo award (2015).

Welcome to Majgull Axelsson

(Items under the "Upcoming Events" header is a list of google calendar API events, maxed at 15 entries to make sure the page doesn't get too stretched. It is unlikely to ever go beyond 5 planned events.)

(The selection-button loads information about each book from a .JSON.)